Richard Sereni

The Arabian horse has always been a major part of Richard Sereni's life. After judging for over thirty-five years he made the decision to retire from Judging. He felt that the time had come to move aside and make room for the new upcoming judges. He feels both honored and blessed to be inducted into the Arabian Horse Association Hall of Fame. Sereni served on the USEF Board of Directors, The Equitation committee, and has been a member of the Western Council.

He has two boys RJ and Matt, who are professional horsemen. Matt graduated from Cal Poly San Louis Obispo, California and now operates out of his ranch in Moraga Hill, California. Matt started showing hunter pony's and finished his junior year winning the 2003 ASPCA Maclay Medal Finals. RJ found his place as a farrier and shoes hunters, jumpers, and Reiner's he enjoys making black smith art work.

In 2002, Sereni moved to an beautiful property in Roseburg, Oregon, located on the Umpqua River, a world famous fly fishing river. The property came complete with a bouquet winery growing its own estate grapes. Sereni went with a quote from Benjamin Franklin: "Wine makes daily living easier, less hurried with fewer tensions and more tolerance" He wishes the best to the Arabian Horse Association and is very grateful for his induction to the Judges' Hall of Fame.
